PARKS AFTERSCHOOL

FREE FOR CHILDREN AGES 6–13

The Parks Afterschool Program seeks to enhance communities and enrich the lives of children in the City of New York by providing safe, supportive, and structured environments that support overall health and well-being. Parks Afterschool offers quality educational, recreational, and cultural programs that promote the social, physical, intellectual, and emotional development of children.

On any afternoon of the week, visit one of the 32 Parks Afterschool locations and you will see children ages 6-13 years old participating in a wide variety of recreational, cultural, and educational programs. Three thousand children in the City of New York are served by the Parks Afterschool Program between 3:00 p.m. and 6:00 p.m. Monday through Friday, the time when school-aged children are most in need of being in safe, supportive environments. Parks Afterschool youth receive homework help, participate in fitness activities, and explore arts & culture opportunities. Parks Afterschool programs complement what children are learning in schools and strengthen their sense of belonging in the communities in which they live.

At Parks Afterschool, young athletes participate in a range of physical fitness activities. Youth are encouraged to develop their abilities in various team sports and learn new skills, such as swimming.

Parks Afterschool youth receive academic support from staff to complete homework and reinforce classroom learning. In addition, Parks Afterschool youth can utilize Computer Resource Centers to improve their literacy and computer skills.

Parks Afterschool youth develop their creative minds and bodies in various arts and culture programs, led by trained professionals. Among the arts courses offered are creative writing, dance, drama, music and visual art.

Registration is available from September through June. For more information about the Parks Afterschool Program, call 311. To register your child, contact your nearest Recreation Center.
