Established in 1978, NYC Parks GreenThumb is proud to be the nation's largest urban gardening program, assisting over 550 gardens and over 20,000 volunteer gardeners on 100 combined acres of open space throughout New York City. GreenThumb's mission is to educate and support community gardens across the five boroughs while preserving open space. By providing free garden materials, technical assistance, educational workshops, and seasonal programs, GreenThumb supports neighborhood volunteers who steward community gardens as active resources that strengthen communities.

North Brooklyn Bike Tour

K.C. Alvey (NYC Parks GreenThumb), the NYC Department of Transportation, and Transportation Alternatives

Join us for a guided 6.5-mile bike tour of North Brooklyn community gardens for the fifth annual Open Garden Day NYC on Saturday, June 4. This bike tour will take you to a variety of GreenThumb community gardens and open spaces throughout North Brooklyn, including food-producing gardens, event spaces, and botanical spaces. With a long history of advocacy around environmental justice, community leaders in Los Sures, Williamsburg, and Greenpoint have played a pivotal role in protecting and stewarding green spaces for all residents in North Brooklyn. Many community gardens were created by residents on vacant lots that were scattered across New York City, particularly in Black and Brown neighborhoods at the height of disinvestment in the 1970s and 1980s. Today, these spaces are critical to the health, well-being, and cultural life of North Brooklyn. Come hear from stewards of community gardens and see what they are growing!

Details:

- Stops: Green Dome, Java Street Garden, El Puente: Espiritu Tierra Community Garden, La Casita Verde Community Garden, Sunshine Community Garden, Powers Street Garden, Red Shed Garden
- Total length: ~6.5 miles

Birding in Marine Park

Amanda Seaquist (NYC Parks Urban Park Ranger) and NYC Parks GreenThumb

New York City is home to an amazing abundance of wildlife. This is an opportunity for GreenThumb gardeners to learn about wildlife and native plants that are salt-spray tolerant and outside of the most populated neighborhoods of the city. Our Urban Park Rangers will be your guides as you walk around Marine Park hoping to catch a glimpse of some of the unique birds that call this park home. Birding programs are appropriate for all skill levels. Binoculars are available for use, but supplies are limited.

Space is limited. Pre-registration required. Participants are welcome to bring their own lunch to eat at Marine Park before the bus departs at 1:00 p.m.

Observación de aves en Marine Park

Amanda Seaquist (NYC Parks Urban Park Ranger) y NYC Parks GreenThumb

La ciudad de Nueva York alberga una asombrosa abundancia de vida silvestre. Esta es una oportunidad para que los jardineros de GreenThumb aprendan sobre la vida silvestre y las plantas nativas que toleran el rocío de sal y que se encuentran fuera de los vecindarios más poblados de la ciudad. Nuestros guardaparques de Urban Park lo guiarán mientras camina por Marine Park con la esperanza de ver algunas de las singulares aves que habitan en este parque. Los programas de observación de aves son apropiados para todos los niveles. Se pueden utilizar prismáticos, pero su disponibilidad es limitada.

El espacio es limitado. Se exige una preinscripción. Los participantes pueden traer su propio almuerzo para comer en Marine Park antes de la salida del autobús a la 1:00 p.m.

GreenThumb and the New York City Housing Authority (NYCHA) are working together to make a green difference! Through this partnership, GreenThumb Community Gardens at NYCHA is making improvements and providing ongoing support to 50 community gardens in 50 developments. Under NYC Parks' mission of creating and sustaining thriving public spaces, GreenThumb is providing free garden materials, onsite help, educational workshops, and seasonal programs to NYCHA residents and the surrounding community. Since 2019, GreenThumb has engaged gardeners at eligible NYCHA developments across the city, and has assisted in improving the layout, design and accessibility of their gardens, reconstructing planting beds and growing areas for food production, and engaging the broader community in urban agriculture and healthy living. Find a GreenThumb Community Garden at NYCHA near you — the gardens are listed on our website on the garden map, and they are open to the public during the growing season.
